Herrists Accident.-A little boy named Murphy, about eight years old, who lives under the hill on Eric street, was playing about a cattle train opposite the Marine Hospital, Saturday forenoon, when he met with a horrible accident. The train had halted at that point for the purpose of watering the cattle. The little boy, at the time the train started off, was hanging on one of the cars. In some way he lost his hold, and his legs were swung across one of the rails. Two wheels passed over them, mangling them in a frightful manner. Two surgeons were called, who immediately amputated one of the legs just below the knee, and at latest advices, they thought it would be necessary to perform the same operation on the other leg.
